Legislators To Visit Here Saturday

Relaxing in the comfort of the lounge in the new women's dormitory, Stodder Hall, are these University coeds, all occupants of the new residence hall. Complete with every modern facility the new building has become the envy of women students living in other dormitories.

Angela Nichols, left, and Rochelle Hyman are among occupants of the new women's dormitory. Like other dorm occupants these girls find their attractive third floor room a very comfortable "home away from home." (Photos by Johnson)

Governor Is Unable To Attend

By Ed Damon

Members-elect to the Maine State Legislature will visit campus Saturday in order to better acquaint themselves with the University and its functions.

Governor Edmund S. Muskie, who was invited to attend with the legislators, has found it impossible to do so. Pressure of other business will keep the Governor away, the Campus learned late Tuesday.

Highlighting the law-makers' day here will be an address by University president, Dr. Arthur A. Hauck, at 10 a.m. in the Main Lounge of the Memorial Union.

To Discuss Budget

President Hauck is expected to discuss the University's biennial budget request to the Legislature in regard to projects, buildings, and capital expenditures. He is not expected to name any figures in reference to these requests.

In his last request to the Legislature President Hauck asked for $4,340,144 for the biennium 1955-57. The actual appropriation for the two year period was $4,158,417, of which $2,025,626 was for the year 1955-56, while $2,132,791 was for the year 1956-57.

These figures included an appropriation for support of the Agricultural Extension Service and Research programs. Additional appropriations for buildings were $465,000.

The purpose of the visit is to enable Legislators to become informed about the University's work, education, and training so that they will be better able to take action on the (Continued on Page Five)

New Women's Dormitory Functioning In Full Swing

By Murrie MacDonald

Dormitory girls from Chadbourne, Colvin, Balentine, and Stodder were almost uncomplaining about the long waiting lines, cold toast, and hard-to-remember lunch tickets as they sat down to meals last week in the bright, modern Stodder Hall cafeteria.

The new dormitory started functioning in full swing with the opening of the cafeteria last Wednesday. With floor to ceiling windows letting in

The rooms are no exception to the modern theme used throughout the dormitory. Envious girls from now-outmoded dorms on campus have provided a steady stream of visitors for the new dorm inmates.

Other Eyes

And these tourists are not the only eyes focused in the direction of Stodder Hall. The wide, clear windows overlooking "Fraternity Row" have been the source of much activity with binoculars, it is believed.

And last, but not least, comes the final modern note from Stodder Hall, the red convertible-driving house-mother, Mrs. Dorothy Tomlinson. A warm, friendly person, she has been received with delight by all who have met her.

light on one entire side, the cafeteria was a sparkling sight to girls seeing it for the first time.

Waiting Rooms

The waiting rooms on either side of the cafeteria have been adapted beautifully for after-meal cigarettes or impromptu bridge games.

Girls staying in Stodder Hall have found modern living a great luxury. The colorful lounges boast of thick rugs, strange and comfortable furniture, and even a hi-fi set.

Rally Will Kickoff Football Weekend

A rally in Memorial Gym, Friday night, will kickoff the University's second home football weekend of the season.

Plans for the rally had not been completed late this week but Mayor Carleton "Ron the Con" Hurd told the Campus that the Friday evening event will get underway about 7:15 in the gymnasium following a parade across campus.

The Women's Athletic Association will sponsor a dance in the gym following the rally.

First Student Senate Meeting Draws Near 100% Attendance

Close to 100 per cent attendance was recorded Tuesday evening as the University's General Student Senate held its first meeting of the year at the Union.

Senate President Reginald G. Collins reported that practically every senator was present to answer the roll call and explained that the few absentees had legitimate excuses for the most part.

Each constituency, except East Chadbourne Hall, has elected their representatives to the Senate.

New Members

New Senate members are: Patti Dessler and Anne Martin, Balentine Hall; Sandra Paige, West Chadbourne; Patricia Koslowski, Colvin Hall; Ann Rubin, The Elms; Alice Lone, South Estabrooke; Ann Dunne and Betty Buzzell, North Estabrooke; Barbara Kelly and Rosemary Wright,

New Advisor Hopes Senate Will Be Active Organization

"My hope for you is that you will be an active Senate," Dr. Robert M. York, professor of history at the University and new General Student Senate Advisor, told the newly elected group at their first meeting Tuesday night.

Speaking briefly to the new senators, gathered in the Lown room of the Union, York continued, "I hope you will accept the responsibility that is yours and that in your executive officers you will find leadership."

Important Year

The advisor, who assumed the position last spring, told the Senators that this will be an important year in the history of the University. "We are moving forward," he said, "and it seems to me that there is a great deal the student government can do."

York, who also holds the position of State Historian in addition to his teaching duties, promised the Senate his "wholehearted cooperation."

Senate President Reginald Collins presided at the short organizational meeting and introduced Campus editor-in-chief John A. Littlefield who spoke briefly.

Vote Increase

Although the meeting was devoted primarily to organization and orientation, the Senate did vote an increase in funds over last year for the annual Student Leadership Conference, October 20.

The appropriation was unanimously approved.

John A. Littlefield, editor-in-chief of the Maine Campus, is shown addressing a group of students who were among those attending the first Campus training class last Thursday evening. The second class of the annual program will be held tonight at 7 in the journalism classroom over the Bookstore. (Photo by Sclair)

University Graduate Studying In London On Fulbright Grant

Zane A. Thompson, a graduate of the University, is studying at the school of Economics, University of London, this year on a Fulbright Scholarship. Dr. Alice Stewart, chairman of the Fulbright Committee at the University, has announced.

Zane A. Thompson, a graduate of the University, was the recipient of a Fulbright Scholarship for study at the University of London this year.

Thompson, who attended Bridgton high school, was graduated from the University with high honors in history and government in 1956.

While Undergraduate

While an undergraduate here he was elected a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, and Sigma Mu Sigma. He served as president of the Maine Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic society, as an officer of the Maine Debate Council, as a varsity debater for four years, editor-in-chief of the 1956 Prism, member of the executive council of the University chapter of Young Republicans, and a member of the Politics and International Relations Club. He was also a library assistant for four years.

While in England, Thompson will continue his study of history probably constructed around 17th century history which he explored for his Honors thesis at Maine.

Thompson's cousin, Dr. Charles Pendexter, a graduate of Bates and Washington University, was a Fulbright scholar at the University of London about five years ago.

'No Reaction' Follows Story

"No official reaction," were the words used by Gov. Edmund S. Muskie's press secretary, Floyd Nute, to describe the story in last week's Campus concerning the University senior, Clarence W. Frost, who wrote the Governor concerning his summer employment problems.

Nute told the Campus early this week that budget hearings had prevented Governor Muskie from reading the story, but the press secretary said that he had read the story.

Surprised

"I am very surprised that the press services have not picked it up yet," Nute reported.

Frost wrote the Governor describing working conditions at the resort where he worked during the past summer and suggested that labor legislation would correct the situation. Muskie answered the letter and promised that he and state officials would do everything possible to correct the situation.

It has been an interesting week for Frost.

"Student opinion to the incident has been generally favorable," the education student said this week.

As for faculty opinion, he had heard none.

Many Visitors

Many friends have visited him in his third floor Oak Hall room and practically everyone he knows at the University has had some comment about the incident.

And what does Frost's roommate, junior Warren Loveless, have to say about the situation?

The English major told the Campus "It is the start of a great political career for Clarence."

Crane Notes Smaller Foreign Enrollment Here

By Marianne Schmidt

"The number of foreign students enrolled in the University has been gradually decreasing," Percy F. Crane, Director of Admissions, said this week.

This year 22 foreign students are on campus compared with the 1954-55 enrollment of 28.

Important Cause

The most important cause of this decrease in enrollment is the dissolution of inter-government educational agencies which the United States established in occupied countries after World War II. These agencies used screening boards to assure that only select students would be given financial aid necessary to attend American colleges. The primary objective of such assistance was to improve international relations.

Now that these funds have been dissolved along with occupation, foreign students either attend their own country's rebuilt universities or seek other means of attending American educational institutions, Crane explained.

Aid Students

Organizations designed to aid foreign students are functioning in the United States and abroad. One of the most important is the Institute of International Education in New York City. The American-Korean Foundation helps students obtain scholarships while the Anglo-American Helene Bureau of Education gives select students actual financial aid.

Students At Maine

The 22 foreign students on campus this year are: Shirley Brown, Canada; Ching Soing Chau, Philippines; Georgina Dibbon, Canada; Basil Said Farah, Jordan; Toreny Frederickson, Canada; Claude Gendron, Canada; Robert Hopkins, Canada; Pierre Jean Jutras, Canada; Seun Woo Kahng, Korea; Ko Ko, Burma.

Arje Latz, Israel; David Linekin, Canada; Issa Lutfiyya, Palestine; Maung Nyunt, Burma; Malcolm Rendell, Canada; Saw Chein Saing, Burma; Herbert Sewall, Canada; James Scott, Canada; Paul Taiganides, Greece; Pascal Woldemarian, Ethiopia; Chongsun Tom Yun, Korea; Mirosław Czapowskyj, Ukraine; and Haracio Canales, Mexico.

Sorority Fling Holds Sway As Dorms Cut Down Pace

By Joyce-marie Crockett

This past weekend certainly could have been called a real "Sorority Fling." Dormitories quieted down for the first time since classes started. However, campus activities still flourished.

Delta Zeta held its annual Animal Fair and dance Friday in the Union. Janet Griffin was in charge of arrangements. Couples danced to the music of Dale Whitney and his orchestra. Chaperons were Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Nichols and Dr. and Mrs. Gerald W. Barnes.

Mt. Katahdin was scaled again this year by the Maine Outing Club, despite rainy weather. Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Martin chaperoned the group and Sally Willoughby was in charge of the affair.

Saturday was the day for the Junior Class Picnic held at the Aggie Picnic Grounds from 12-6 p.m. Dale Whitney and his orchestra were on hand to supply the music. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Keyo, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Gillespie, Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Kish were chaperons. David E. Williams was in charge of arrangements.

Bayside and Betty Buzzell's camp was the spot for the Pi Beta Phi overnight outing. Over 40 girls attended. Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Buzzell were chaperons.

An all-day picnic at Barbara Berg-land's home in Orono was the scene of the Delta Delta Delta sorority outing. Miss Margaret Mollison was a special guest.

Sandra Daley was in charge of the Phi Mu sorority International Tea on Sunday afternoon in the Women's Lounge of the Union. Sheila Darcy assisted. Faculty members, dormitory and fraternity housemothers and students attended the affair.

Chi Omega held its annual Art Tea in the art gallery of Carnegie Hall on Sunday afternoon. Miss Chenoweth Hall, whose paintings and sculptures were on display, and Miss Miriam Colwell, authoress, were honored guests. Judy Smith was in charge of arrangements.

The Sigmas, wives of the brothers and pledges, were guests at Sigma Chi Thursday night, October 4. A meal prepared by Willie Williams, the cook, was enjoyed by all. George Karnedy, social chairman, was in charge of the event.

PINNED: Roberta Duncan to David Griffiths, Phi Eta Kappa.

The Off-Campus Men's Club has elected the following new officers: Seabury Libby, president; Ernest Hollis, vice president; Paul MacLeod, secretary-treasurer.

Orville A. Yoder Wins Award

Orville A. Yoder, a senior at the University, has been awarded the Ralston Purina Scholarship Award for 1956-57, according to an announcement made in St. Louis by J. D. Sykes, vice president of the Ralston Purina company.

The Purina Scholarship amounts to $500. It is awarded each year to an outstanding junior in each of the 48 land grant colleges in the United States and three Canadian agricultural colleges. Winners are selected at each college by a faculty Scholarship Committee on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, ambition in agriculture, and a desire for financial assistance.

This group of students, resting following a hearty meal, were among those attending the Junior class picnic Saturday at the Aggie Picnic area. Games, refreshments, and music by Dale Whitney's orchestra were features of the event. Nearly 60 members of the class of 1959 were present for the picnic.

To Hold Annual Newspaper Day Here

The University's annual Newspaper Day program will be held here October 26 and 27, Brooks W. Hamilton, assistant professor and head of the department of journalism, announced this week.

Sponsored by the Maine Press Association, the Maine Daily Newspaper Publishers Association, the Maine Campus, University Press Club and the department of journalism, the program is held each year.

This year's speaker and other program plans will be announced shortly. newsmen from the state may get together to discuss mutual interests and problems.

As in the past a nationally known speaker from the newspaper field will appear.

Hauck Names Frosh Parents' Day Committee

President Arthur A. Hauck announced today the personnel of the faculty-student committee which will be responsible for arranging and holding Freshman Parents Day at the University, October 27.

Charles E. Crossland, assistant to the President, will serve as chairman. Other University staff members appointed to serve on the committee are as follows: Prof. Charles E. Buck, department of bacteriology and biochemistry; Percy F. Crane, director of admissions; Prof. Stanley Freeman, School of Education; Nelson B. Jones, director of Memorial Union; John E. Stewart, dean of men; William C. Wells, director of dormitories; Edith G. Wilson, dean of women; and Prof. Herbert H. Wood, assistant to the dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Reginald Collins, president of the General Student Senate, and Florence Raymond, president of Women's Student Government, are the student members of the committee.

Freshman Parents Day, which has now become an annual event at the University, usually attracts several hundred parents of the newly enrolled beginning students.

Improvement Is Needed

The story in last week's Campus concerning the University senior who wrote Gov. Edmund S. Muskie about his rather unfavorable summer at a Maine resort brings to light an interesting point.

It seems from most evidence and from the testimony of most students employed at summer resorts that this particular situation was not an exception. Poor pay, long hours, often beyond the maximum number set by law, and other unsatisfactory working conditions are common at many summer resorts, both in this state and elsewhere.

Any solution to the problem is vague for there are few laws which can be enforced to rectify the situation. Also very few if any summer resort employees are Unionized. Perhaps new legislation, as was suggested by both Muskie and the student, is the answer.

That this particular student should bring the matter to the Governor's attention is commendable.

That Muskie promised that he and other officials, "will do everything in our power to correct the situation in the State," is worthy of note.

We certainly hope that the Governor will follow through on his promise and improve working conditions at resorts for the benefit and to the satisfaction of all students working at such summer employment.

Don't Drive While Drinking

Three University students have been arrested for mixing drinking with driving. Two have been convicted with fines ranging from $100 to $225, and suspension of driving licence for two years.

The fines and licence suspensions are in themselves reasons for not driving after drinking. And there are arguments about personal danger, accidents, and menace to others. In addition there are special factors involved when students are charged with drinking.

For one thing we should remember that what we do reflects on other students, and to an extent on the whole University. Three arrests in two weeks can not add to the reputation of the University student body. And of course the administration is justified in taking action against offenders.

Another point is that at this time of year there are always many temptations to drive after having a little snort. Home football games, parties, evenings in Orono all add up to trouble in some cases.

Not that we favor any sort of "no-drinking" rule for those of legal age. Drinking has its place, at least for some people. But drinking and driving—for University students as for anyone else—do not mix.

Legislators Welcomed

The legislators-elect will visit our campus on Saturday. This group, representing the citizens of Maine, will be here to get a first hand look at the school that belongs to the people of Maine.

To each of these men we wish to extend a sincere welcome, the kind of friendly welcome for which this school is famous.

Their visit is an important one. It is important in the sense that the visitors are the duly elected representatives of the people. As such the impressions and conclusions they gather here will in a sense be the impressions and conclusions of every citizen of Maine.

It is important also in that this is an important year in the history of the University. It is a year of growth and decision.

We hope the legislators enjoy their stay—the tour of the campus, the football game, the discussion with President Hauck.

More important we hope that the legislators-elect will carry away with them a little of the spirit of Maine. Carry it with them to the people of this state so that everyone will come to appreciate the fact that only to the extent that this is a great school will Maine be a great state.

Tea Room

Another Piece Of Drivel

By Ed Damon

As noted on last week's editorial page this column is more or less, probably more, a piece of drivel. It has no claims to being lily white and will continue as it has in the past. Those of you who object to drivel should take this as fair warning in regards to the contents of the Tea Room and devote your attention to other obviously more suitable literature.

This column should not be read by anyone who desires to keep his nose in the clouds and overlook the every day happenings, some of them common and some not so common.

With that for an introduction perhaps a little should be said as to the exact connotation of the subject up for consideration, namely "drivel."

Mr. Webster offers several choices of meanings (nine to be exact). That increases the difficulty of our task in that we must select the pertinent one. In as much as I am unqualified and probably incompetent, I respectfully refer you to my letter-writing friend Arnold who apparently is well versed in literary standards.

Now that that is out of the way I should like to begin with my drivel. We hear that there is a new sport on campus, walking or crawling as the case may be, through the steam pipe tunnels. Wonder what the purpose could be?

Wonder who it is, or more specifically, what members of what student organization had a small party recently on University property.

The parking situation here becomes worse week-in and week-out and with no apparent solution in sight. Complaints have become more and more frequent and complainants more and more vociferous.

Many of the complainants are seniors. It seems that an increasing number of fourth year students are being denied parking permits for the Sevens Hall area. In at least one case the student concerned (a senior) was told to either "take a gym sticker or none at all."

Several off-campus students have started a penny collection, with the ultimate goal being enough funds to pay for a mammoth party.... Included amongst the contributors are several residents of Orono, some state troopers, a University faculty member, and other prominent persons. At this point more than $10 has been saved. By semester's end the fund will probably have swelled considerably. Looks like the party will be quite an affair.

I've heard quite a lot about one of the "hotter" night spots on the Maine coast. Old Orchard residents mention a place called "The Sands" time and again when speaking of places that are absolute "musts." It would appear that the place warrants a try.

The word received here is that one University student, while at home for a week end, accepted the challenge of a high school senior to the effect that he (the h.s. senior) could drink the college student under the table. It's reliably reported the Maine man not only accepted the challenge, but bet on his capacity and was successful in the bout, thus fattening his wallet.

Favors Saving Seats

To the Editor:

Well the pigskin season is with us again and the Black Bears got off to an explosive start against Rhode Island, in what was a great game enjoyed by all. Oh, did I say all? Well not quite. It seems that the Msrs. Winchell and Lowell (article in last week's Campus) have a gripe... mainly that pledges are saving seats at the games for members of their fraternities. Maybe this business is wrong, but I take the opposite view and I would like to show why.

My major premise for this stand is that... fraternities seated together make for better school spirit. It is only natural that when one sits with his own close friends he will cheer and shout louder, thus contributing to school spirit which we hear so much about here at Maine.

Also there is so much talk about tradition at Maine. Well I believe that having pledges save seats at games has been tradition (at least among the fraternities, an integral part of Maine) for some time now.

As for the authors, whose article bothered me, both upperclassmen, I have no advice. Possibly though, if they could "hurry through chow" (last week's article) they could get better seats also.

Actually I don't believe the whole issue is of earth-shaking importance

Campus Humor

A New Way Of Living

(ACP). Oklahoma Daily writer Ed Turner has come up with a new way of college living which, in keeping with the times, he calls "classmanship." Briefly, he says, it means the knack of frustrating a well-meaning professor to such an extent that he will want to quit his chosen profession.... Here are some of his rules:

"First of all: always be late to class. Upon entering NEVER look meek or apologetic for disturbing the class. Appear surprised as if this section was scheduled to meet at this time, even look hurt that they could go on without you. Many an accomplished classman has caused the professor to thumb quickly through his class bulletin to see if perhaps they should have met at 8:35 instead of 8:10.

"Disagree openly with the professor. An economic instructor says in his most profound and sonorous tones: 'The theories of Adma Smith are the foundations of our modern system of economics.' You say in an audible whisper: 'But that's so passe'... making him look as if he had an old pair of plus-fours and shouting 23 skidoo instead of delivering a lecture.

"Leavemanship is another effective gambit that will add sparkle to every class room. About 10 minutes before the class is over slam your book shut, zip up your notebook, tuck your pencil neatly in your pocket and begin tapping your foot spasmodically, whistling to yourself, if you are a poor whistler. At five minutes before the hour, scoot up on the edge of your seat, alternating your gaze between the wall clock and your watch, shouting 'X minus five, X minus four, X minus three'... right up until the end of the hour."

(ACP)—And this from the United Press via the Daily Kansan: In Batavia, New York, a drum major flipped his baton into the air during a parade and was startled when it didn't come down. He looked up and found that the metal baton was fused to a 5,000 volt power line suspended across the street. It caused a 90-minute power failure.

(ACP)—The male students at Berkeley, California, will probably think twice before staging any more panty raids. There was a really big raid last spring and it wound up costing students $5,100. That's the sum paid to girls who filed loss claims with the dean of students office.... Individual claims from the girls averaged $20.00... the men around campus contributed approximately $3.50 per man... to pay for restitution of damages.

(ACP)—The Crimson-White reports that authorities at the University of Alabama are still investigating a wave of thefts which were reported at sorority houses and religious centers in the late summer. The thieves struck at several spots within the space of a few days and seemed to be interested in only the most expensive loot. They took a $400 air conditioner from the Alpha Delta Pi house, a silver and tea set valued at $1,100 from the Phi Mu house, a high-fidelity set from the Baptists Student center and a television set from the Westminister house.

Oh yes, just as a humorous sidelight on the subject, I chuckled to myself the other night at the Herbert Morrison lecture as I spied certain members of the faculty refusing people seats which they were saving for members of their respective departments. Tch Tch!

Duo-Pianists Perform Masterfully, Says Critic

By Jan Adlmann
Campus Guest Critic

Indisputable mastery of the piano was exhibited here Tuesday evening by the much-acclaimed duo-pianists, Pierre Luboshutz and Genia Nemenoff. The performance in Memorial Gym was perfect: great music interpreted by truly great artists.

Luboshutz and Nemenoff are justly praised for their ability to invoke intense moods and emotions from the keyboard.

Admirable Balancing

The program, consisting of seven selections and three encores, was an admirable balancing of the "old familiar" and "modern." An abnormal amount of coughing and commotion arose during the Khachaturian Suite. This is further evidence of the unwillingness or inability, exhibited by New Englanders in general, to appreciate "modern" works. The reviewer believes that this attitude is hardly exemplary of the "open mind" which a college is accredited with developing in its students.

The Die Fledermaus Fantasia and Ritual Fire Dance were received with the greatest response, probably because of the technical brilliance of the performers themselves.

Attendance Good

Attendance at the performance exceeded the norm for such programs.

This is perhaps an indication that some students are beginning to realize the importance of at least a primer coat of serious music as a factor in a well-rounded intellect.

Notice To Students Of Draft Age

George H. Crosby, University registrar, has announced that all students of draft age should make sure that the office of the registrar has sent selective service form 109 to their draft boards. In addition, Crosby said, students must write a letter to their draft boards requesting deferment for the academic year.

Unless a student meets both requirements he may be drafted, the registrar explained.

In 64 years of football competition, Maine has won 225, lost 172, tied 32.

Second 'Campus' Class Is Tonight

The second class of the current Maine Campus training program will be held tonight at 7 in the journalism classroom over the Bookstore.

Tonight's class will include a brief review of material covered at the first session last week, techniques of interviewing, and introductory instruction in news writing.

The training program, developed last year by present Campus editor John A. Littlefield, is designed for new Campus reporters, prospective journalism majors, and other students interested in newspaper work.

Union Wants Members

The Memorial Union is now conducting a campus-wide drive for new members. Some 120 students have received letters of invitation to meet with chairmen of the seven Union committees.

The Activities Board cordially invites any student who is interested to drop in at the board room

Bear Facts

By DON COOKSON
(Sports Editor)

Top priority to "The Gripe of the Month" centers on hockey. Or perhaps we should say, the lack of hockey here at Maine.

True, it is a bit early to be campaigning for the sport, but if any action is to be taken in organizing a team, now is the time to start the puck rolling.

We're proud of our football team at Maine, we are equally proud of our cross country team. We're proud of all our athletic teams. And justly so, for the wearers of the Pale Blue have always accredited themselves well on the various fields of sport.

Maine is a recognized power in Yankee Conference football circles. State Series opponents are less than enthusiastic when they tackle Westy's huskies on the gridiron. Chester Jenkins' and now Ed Styrna's cross country crews have reached the heights in New England track circles. Our basketball and baseball teams haven't fared quite as well in recent years, but they have performed creditably.

No if, ands, or buts about it, we've made progress in all sports. That is, all sports save one—hockey. Not only have we failed to make progress, we've back-tracked. Back-tracked in a sport that is gaining daily in popularity all over the country.

In our own state, hockey has swept in with the swiftness and potency of a Hurricane Diane.

Within five short years Colby has erected a fabulous indoor rink, Bowdoin has followed suit, and Bates is contemplating building her own ice palace, and moving out of St. Dom's arena.

How has all this activity affected Maine? Not even a small breeze.

Why? Last year over twenty candidates reported to Coach Walt Anderson, and expressed more than passing interest in organizing an informal hockey team. So interested were they that they volunteered to buy their own equipment. They cleared a rink, and went to it.

So disinterested were University officials that they refused to provide snow removal equipment when the first blast of winter hit. Hockey, formal or informal, gave way to Mother Nature.

There were some fine hockey players among that group. Anderson, a great defenseman in his college days at Boston University, loved the sport and would have been an excellent coach. We can't help but feel that the failure of hockey to gain support at the University was a bitter disappointment to Andy, and perhaps a prime factor in his move back to BU where he now handles freshman hockey.

As a competitive and as a spectator sport, hockey is tops. To all intents and purposes hockey and football remain our only contact sports.

The case against hockey? Initial costs of equipment and playing facilities would be extremely high. Outdoor hockey can never pay for itself, weather conditions being what they are in northern Maine. Too much competition for basketball.

Have Colby, Bowdoin and Bates been willing to meet the initial costs of hockey at the risk of losing thousands of dollars, or have they the foresight to see that hockey will take its place among the major college sports, not only as a great game, but as a big source of revenue?

What prohibits Maine from renting the Bangor Auditorium until such time as the University can fit an indoor rink into its building program?

Would one or two games a week, scheduled to complement the home basketball slate, detract from the hoop sport?

Interesting questions which we would like to see answered.

Hockey belongs in the Maine athletic curricula.

SKIMMING THE SURFACE—Sophomore Dale Bessey has won his cross country spurs. Dale made the transition from 2½ mile freshman course to the four mile varsity course in most creditable fashion Saturday. . . . Maine gridders are old hands at "coming home." The Bears will participate in no less than four Homecoming games this fall—at Vermont, Connecticut, Bowdoin, and of course, their own—Colby.

Within The Walls

Ol' man Jup Pluvius stole the thunder from interfraternity football play last weekend.

As the result of Sunday's postponements, the schedule has undergone extensive shuffling.

Phi Mu will attempt to halt TKE October 14, while all other tilts have been moved up the 21.

Dorm action has also been jumped to the 21 with one other schedule change. North Dorms 11 and 12 will draw a bye.

Tennis Tourney

Action in the annual intramural Fall tennis tournament reached the quarter-final stage this week. Bob McKown, a member of last year's varsity squad turned back senior John Bridge; the Khoury brothers, Ted and Dave, downed Cliff Madore and Bill Crandall, respectively; Bernie Cope was able to do just that with Bob Lindgren, 6-1, 6-2, and Jim York outduelled Bob Chase, 6-8, 6-0, 6-4.

In the freshman division, Bob Sterritt drew a bye, Dave Lunt nipped John Pearson, 6-4, 9-7. More matches are to follow in freshman play.

Bears Meet Wildcats In Red Hot YC Tussle

By Joe McCarthy

The University of Maine Black Bears seek their third Yankee Conference win this Saturday as they face the University of New Hampshire Wildcats at Alumni Field. The Wildcats are after their second win of the season.

The Black Bears, who downed Vermont 14-0 last week, face a rugged tilt this Saturday. New Hampshire lost a hard fought contest in their opening game with Dartmouth two weeks ago. Last week the Wildcats dropped hapless Rhode Island 13-6 in a game which saw two New Hampshire touchdowns called back.

Veteran Line

The Wildcats will field a veteran line except at center. Rollin Gentes, a 180 pound sophomore, is filling that slot. The New Hampshire backfield is an all sophomore aggregation. Coach Harold Westerman pointed out this week, though, that their youth is no indication of the calibre of ball they play. Westerman said that it is every bit as good as the brand played at any other Yankee Conference school.

Bob Trouville, a 175 pound quarterback, is an exceptionally fine passer.

DANDY DAN—Leads Bears to finish line.

Maine fans can expect to see the ball thrown if the New Hampshire ground attack bogs down. At fullback, 195 pound Ray Donnelly will provide the punch for Chief Boston's "T" attack.

In their 46th meeting, Maine and New Hampshire will be about evenly matched across the line. The pale Blue forward wall averages 192 while the Wildcat line will weigh in at 189. This past week Coach Westerman has been stressing fundamentals.

Work On Defense

He is also working with his charges on pass defense. New Hampshire has already shown that they are capable of a good passing game.

At Vermont last week the Black Bears ran into a stubborn Catamount club.

Maine scored their first touchdown after guard Norm Cole intercepted a Vermont pass on the Catamount 45. Moving the ball through the middle of the Vermont line with fullback Verne Moulton doing the bulk of the carrying, the Black Bears scored from the four. Moulton carried over for the T.D. on a wedge play. This ended Maine's scoring in the first half although they missed another scoring opportunity early in the second quarter. With a first down on the Vermont 2 yard line, the Catamounts defense stiffened and Maine was unable to move the ball.

In the third period, a short pass from Quarterback Ken Parady to Thurlow Cooper garnered the second Maine score. Theriault and Bickford converted the PAT's for the Pale Blue.

On Move

As the game ended, Maine was on the move. They had the ball on the Vermont 17 when the final gun sounded.

Outstanding for the Catamounts was Chealefaux, one of the finest line-backers seen all year.

UConn Ticket Sale Underway

Students and alumni may purchase tickets for the Connecticut game up until Thursday noon, October 18.

Tickets are now available at the athletic office. 150 adult tickets priced at $2.00 each and 100 student ducats at $1.00 are on sale.

Curtis pointed out that Maine students will be required to show their ID cards at the Connecticut game in addition to their student tickets.

All indications point to a heavy advance sale. Should Maine turn back New Hampshire Saturday, the Bear-UConn game will go a long way in determining the winner of the Yankee Conference Beanpot.

At presstime, there had been no indication that the game would be broadcast over a local station.

Blue Thinclads To Host New Hampshire Hillers

Coach Ed Styrna's thin-clads will be off and running for win number two here Saturday. They toe the line against New Hampshire in a meet that is scheduled to end between the first and second periods of the Freshman-Bridgton football game.

The Pale Blue trotters will be favored to down the Wildcats on the strength of their impressive 17-44 win over Springfield last week end.

Won Last Year

Last year at Durham Maine dropped New Hampshire, 15-48, sweeping the first five places.

Dan Rearick, Dale Bessey, Karl Kraske, Dick Law, and Phil Emery, are the Bears' top threats.

Rearick navigated the rambling four mile course in a sparkling 21:13, just 28 seconds off the course record to pace the Bear victory over Springfield, Saturday.

Dandy Dan, displaying iron man stamina despite his slender build—130 pounds—cut the tape some 40 yards in front of teammate Bessey. Rearick took the lead from Bessey at the mile and a half mark and was never headed.

Law Trails

Law trailed Bessey a hundred yards behind the bespectacled sophomore. Fourth spot went to Kraske.

Springfield co-captain "Fig" Newton broke the all-Maine spell, finishing fifth. Teammate Reuter was sixth.

Springfield coach, Vernon Cox, had high praise for the Maine team.

Outclassed

"I have a wonderful bunch of boys," he said, "they gave everything they had out there Saturday, but frankly we were out of our class. This is another Maine power-house. I think they'll go all the way again this year with the depth they displayed against us."

Rearick and Bessey came in for special praise from Cox. "Boy, would I like to have those two ponies running for me!"

Sezak Boasts Fine Back

"If only I had last year's line to combine with this year's backfield, what a ballclub we would have!" Freshman coach Sam Sezak added, "Not that I am disappointed with my present bunch. Far from it. But they need experience—lots of experience."

Competition for starting berths remains keen as the Frosh enter the final two days of preparation for their season's opener with Bridgton here Saturday.

Names Nucleus

Sezak named 19 men as the nucleus for front-line action.

Gary Auclair, Frank St. Pierre, and Bill Lowell are top end candidates. Keith Cook, Paul Crosson and Brad Brown, for whom the adjective "big" is insufficient—Brown stands six-four and weighs 260—will share tackle duties. Dick Pottle, Jim Cutler, Jim Kouloheras will vie for starting guard positions.

Converted tackle Bill Stiles and 200 pound Dave Lovett will alternate at center. Lovett has had no high school experience, but has shown ability on defense.

In Backfield

In the backfield Loring Russell or

Ray Vachon, 130 pound mighty-mite, will do the signal-calling. Bud White, Harry Tomah, Bill Champagne, and Jerry Grandpre form the halfback corps with Ken Pinkham or Bobby Bragg running out of the fullback slot.

Bridgton has three games under their belt. The Preppers have downed Maine Maritime and Hebron by identical 14-0 counts, and bowed to powerful MCI, 26-0.

Game time Saturday is 9:00 a.m.

Schedule First Hoop Practice For October

Though football is still very much in season, and the World Series just completed, there is activity on the basketball front.

Tuesday, head basketball coach Hal Woodbury announced the opening of hoop drills here. All men interested in basketball, and who did not play freshman or varsity ball last year may sign up with Woodbury before October 17.

The modern idea of "roughing it" is driving with a standard shift.

Battle For Peace Is Great—Morrison

The battle for peace is one of the greatest things in which we can participate, the Right Honorable Herbert Morrison C.M., M.P. and prominent British Labor Party leader, told a University audience here last Thursday night.

Speaking in Memorial Gym before a crowd of approximately 1,000 persons, Morrison said freedom and justice between nations is one of the most important parts of peace.

Terrible Thing

"It is a terrible thing that future generations must grow up facing the possibility of war," the speaker, first in this year's University Lecture Series, said.

Claiming that there is no real peace in the world today, Morrison, who has long played an important part in British political and governmental affairs, cited the Suez Crisis, Arab-Israel differences, and Cyprus, as examples of our troubled times.

The speaker urged United Nations action in the Suez situation. "If the U.N. is to be strong they cannot avoid such issues," he told his audience.

In the struggle for peace, Morrison urged the Western World to become more strongly united and to make greater use of propaganda, a field in which he said the Communistic nations are far ahead of us. Organizations such as NATO were also cited as another way toward peaceful settlement of world problems.

Receives Degree

University president, Dr. Arthur A. Hauck, introduced Morrison and presented him with an honorary Doctor of Laws degree following the speech.

Bermuda Comes To Maine

Although it was comparatively quiet on campus last weekend with the football team traveling to Vermont and many students returning home, social activities did not come to a standstill. These students, shown above, were among those who attended the "Bermuda Dance" in the Union's Main Lounge Saturday night. Bermuda shorts and casual attire were the mode of dress. Other weekend social activities centered around sororities, most of which held outings, teas or other annual events.

ROTC Air Program Not Yet Definite

Plans for an air training program for University R.O.T.C. Cadets, announced last week, are still in the formative stage according to an announcement Tuesday by the Military Department.

A spokesman for the department told the Campus that much hinges on the receipt of documents from the Department of the Army and certain other legal matters.

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young mathematician helps pace engineering advances

Recently General Electric developed a compact, new motor for industrial use. But before the motor could be put into automatic production, one difficulty remained: to design a protective end shield that would confine any possible explosion to the motor itself.

The man who solved the tough mathematical problems involved is R. A. "Pete" Powell — a mathematical analyst whose job is to assist other engineers in math problems which arise in any number of different projects.

Powell's Work Is Varied and Important

Because he is not tied down to any one project, Powell seldom has two similar assignments. Taking established engineering and mathematical principles, some of them extremely complicated, Powell applies them to advanced engineering problems. In doing this, Pete is able to make such calculations as the distortion of a small part of a jet engine caused by vibrations, the deflection occurring in a turbine part when it runs at operational speeds, or the forces exerted upon a rotating shaft by lubricants.

27,000 College Graduates at General Electric

When "Pete" Powell came to General Electric in 1953, he already knew the kind of work he wanted to do. Like each of our 27,000 college-graduate employees, he is being given the chance to grow and realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: Whenever fresh young minds are given freedom to make progress, everybody benefits — the individual, the Company, and the country.

$$\epsilon = \frac{1}{B} \frac{\partial v}{\partial \beta} + \frac{u}{AB} \frac{\partial B}{\partial \alpha} - \frac{w}{R_2}$$

R. A. "PETE" POWELL joined General Electric in 1953 after receiving his B.S. in Physics in '47 and his M.S. in Mathematics in '49, both from Purdue. From 1949-52 he completed further study in Physics again at Purdue.
